

Turkey predicts strong tourism recovery for 2022

More than 330,000 UK travellers visited Turkey in the first 11 months of 2021, according to the Turkish Government.

Turkey was removed from the UK Government's red list on September 23.

A statement from Turkish Tourism Board in the UK said:

2022 is set to be a year of strong recovery for Turkey in the UK market. The feedback we are receiving from our UK tour operator partners highlights strong levels of forward bookings for summer 2022, supported by an increased number of flights between the UK and Turkey this year.
